While this list appears to be very stringent in product brands, we have tested many of the glues, scissors, crayons, and colored pencils. Some do not last, others work and some are not the basic colors needed as in the case of Rose Art. We suggest you carry this supply list in your purse and look for sales through the summer. We know that Wal-Mart, Staples, and other stores will offer discounts on the items. The scissors should last several years. The folder may need replaced mid-year. The heavier ones work the best to protect the precious papers that your child will be bringing home. Names on supplies allow for lost items to be returned. Thanks!!
